

PROFESSIONAL LEGAL RESEARCH

CiteStation® is a teaching tool available via The West Education Network® (TWEN®) that helps teach legal citation. This quick reference guide introduces you to CiteStation and explains how you can manage CiteStation exercises on TWEN.

What Is CiteStation?

CiteStation is a series of online exercises available via TWEN that are designed to help make teaching legal citation more effective. The exercises were developed by legal research and writing professors who have extensive experience with the challenges associated with teaching legal citation. Each of the exercises is presented in the context of practical legal documents, such as contracts, memoranda, and pleadings, in both Bluebook and ALWD Citation Manual format.

How Does CiteStation Work?

As students read through a CiteStation exercise, they are presented with questions embedded in the text concerning how, what, and when to cite. By working through the questions, students will learn skills such as when to abbreviate citations, when parallel citations are needed, how to correctly format quotations, and when and how to use short citations.

Once a student submits an answer to a question, he or she will be presented with immediate feedback as to whether the answer is correct and will be asked to try again if the answer is incorrect. When the correct answer is chosen, an explanation is displayed that references the Bluebook or ALWD Citation Manual rules, where appropriate. A summary of the number of correct responses is displayed for students upon completion of the exercise.

Answers to the questions are automatically scored and can be used for grading purposes or for informational purposes, such as to see which materials have been mastered by the students. You can view results by individual student, class, or question.

How Do I Add CiteStation to a Course?

If you choose Legal Research/Writing as your topic when creating a new course, the CiteStation button is automatically displayed in the Display for Faculty Only section of the list of navigation links. To add the CiteStation button to an existing course page, complete the following steps:

1. Click Modify Course in the list of navigation links.
2. At the next page, click Modify Course Information.
3. Select Show the CiteStation and Legal Research and Writing Tools button.
4. Click Submit Course Changes at the bottom of the page. The CiteStation button has been added to the Display for Faculty Only section of the list of navigation links

How Do I Add CiteStation Exercises?

1. Click the name of the appropriate course at your TWEN home page, e.g., Criminal Law. The course home page is displayed.
2. Click CiteStation in the Display for Faculty Only section. The CiteStation page is displayed (Figure 1).
3. Click Add/Update at the top of the page.
4. To add an exercise, click Add below the name of the exercise. The exercise is now marked with a green check mark to show that it has been added to the CiteStation page. When you finish choosing the exercises you want, click Return to Exercises at the top of the page. The exercises you chose are displayed (Figure 2).

How Do I Make CiteStation Exercises Available to Students?

By default, CiteStation exercises are hidden from your students. To make the exercises available, you must move the CiteStation link from the Display for Faculty Only section in your navigation links by completing the following steps:

1. From within your TWEN course, click Manage Links above the list of navigation links. The Manage Course Elements page is displayed.
2. Select Hide/Show Links, then click Continue. The Hide Links page is displayed.
3. Choose CiteStation in the Display for Faculty Only list box, then click Add to move it to the Display for Students and Faculty list box.
4. Click Submit. At the Manage Course Elements page, click Return to Course Home Page.

Note After moving the CiteStation link, you can use the Properties page to hide the exercise from students or to schedule specific dates that your exercise will be displayed. See “How Do I Use the Management Options” on page 4.

How Do Students Complete a CiteStation Exercise?

Students must complete the following steps to access and complete a CiteStation exercise:

1. Access the appropriate course by clicking the course name at the TWEN home page.
2. Click CiteStation on the left side of the course home page to display the CiteStation exercises.
3. Click the name of the appropriate CiteStation exercise. The introductory page for the CiteStation exercise is displayed.
4. Click Start. The CiteStation exercise is displayed, which contains links to the questions embedded within the text (Figure 3). Questions are indicated with a question mark icon (?).
5. Answer questions by clicking the question mark icons and following the online instructions.
6. Submit the answers by clicking Finished at the bottom of the exercise; at the next page, click Submit. The exercise results are then displayed.

The screenshot shows a legal case summary from the Court of Appeals of Kentucky. The case is Vernis McNEELEY, Appellant, v. William McNEELEY, Appellee, No. 1999-CA-001235-MR, dated May 18, 2001. The text describes a divorced father incarcerated for intentional murder of a child, who filed a motion for visitation with his minor children. The Circuit Court granted the motion without hearing, which was appealed. The Court of Appeals held that a hearing was required to determine the best interests of the children when the father filed a motion for modification of visitation. The case was vacated and remanded. At the bottom, there is a link to 'Child Custody' with a question mark icon, and a link to '76Dk577 Most Cited Cases'. A red arrow points to the question mark icon in the text, with the label 'Click the icon to display a question.'

How Do I Use the Management Options?

To manage the CiteStation options for a course, click CiteStation in your navigation links, then click a link, e.g., Results, under Management Options (Figure 4).

- Click Results to view exercise results for individual students, the entire class, or specific questions.
- Click Properties to choose whether to hide or display the exercise, whether answers are displayed to your students, and whether an exercise can be completed multiple times.
- Click Print to choose print options.

The screenshot shows the CiteStation interface for a course. At the top, there is a breadcrumb trail: "Westlaw > TWEN > Legal Research and Writing II > CiteStation". A "Print this page" link is in the top right. Below the breadcrumb is a blue header with "CiteStation" and a "Show All" dropdown menu. A "Return to course home page" link is on the right. The main content is a table with two sections: "Bluebook Exercises" and "ALWD Exercises". Each section has columns for "Hidden from Students", "Modification Options", and "Management Options". The "Management Options" column is highlighted with a red box. In the "Bluebook Exercises" section, "Bluebook Exercise 2" is listed with a green checkmark in the "Hidden from Students" column, a "Delete" link in the "Modification Options" column, and "Results Properties Print" links in the "Management Options" column. The "ALWD Exercises" section has a similar structure with "Alwd Exercise 1(second)" listed.

Bluebook Exercises	Hidden from Students	Modification Options	Management Options
Bluebook Exercise 2	✓	Delete	Results Properties Print

ALWD Exercises	Hidden from Students	Modification Options	Management Options
Alwd Exercise 1(second)	✓	Delete	Results Properties Print
