

Government Contracts Databases

Current through January 12, 2009

Westlaw provides government contracts practitioners with a comprehensive library of databases covering contractual transactions and arrangements related to federal and state governments. Case law, statutes, and administrative decisions databases cover the contractual relationship—from entering into and performing government contracts to payment and resolution of disputes.

In addition, the extensive collection of legal texts and periodicals on Westlaw provides practitioners with expert commentary and practice tips regarding government contracting, and news databases provide news and business information about defense contractors and other businesses that contract with governments.

For assistance using Westlaw, call 1-800-WESTLAW (1-800-937-8529).
