

From depositions to the courtroom: tower over your opponent with West LiveNote

The Industry Leader

- For four years running, LiveNote has been the most widely used litigation support software of its kind (Am Law Tech Survey, 2004-2007)
- 81% of Am Law 200 firms use LiveNote
- Compatible with various trial presentation and document management products
- LiveNote is the only Engage-Compliant™ realtime software available
- Also compatible with Windows Vista®

West LiveNote™ is robust transcript and evidence management software that gives you a serious advantage at depositions. And, as every litigator knows, depositions are the real battleground during litigation.

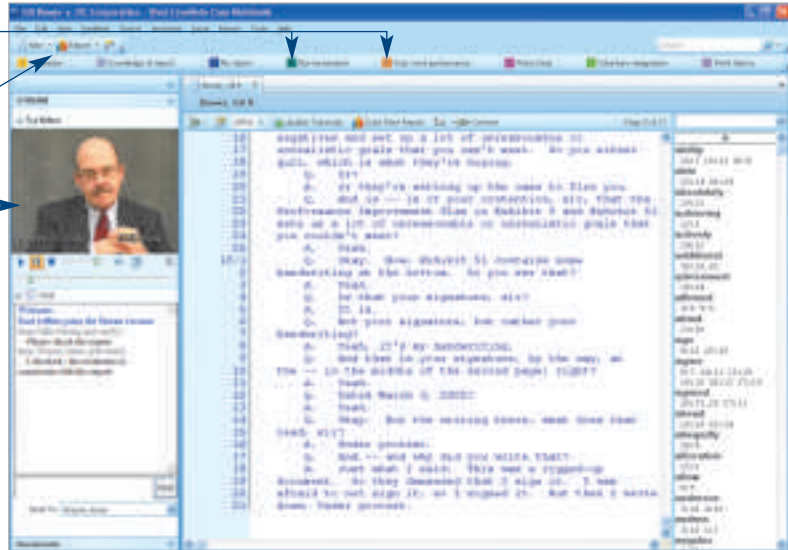

With LiveNote you can receive a realtime feed of the transcript text, audio, and video directly on your laptop computer, and loop in remote team members via LiveNote Stream™. Because you leave the deposition with the record already in electronic format – and flagged with your notes – you can quickly analyze and leverage key information with utmost effectiveness and speed.

From depositions to the conclusion of your case, you can count on LiveNote to ensure that you always find and consider all of the testimony and information vital to your case.

Track key topics with color-coded issues.

Run custom summary
reports with a click.

Play synched video.

The streamlined West LiveNote interface allows you to navigate between open transcripts and exhibits using labeled tabs. In this example, the Gil Bower transcript is open.

Get the West LiveNote advantage and overcome some of your most pressing challenges

By receiving a realtime feed of the deposition as it's happening and managing the transcript and exhibits in your LiveNote software, you have unparalleled control and capabilities of the testimony at your fingertips.

Be at your best when it counts:

Challenges:

- Confirming you got what you need on the record without tipping your hand
- Avoiding distractions caused by note taking
- Reading handwritten notes and connecting them to the final transcript
- Leveraging input of key team members and experts

West LiveNote benefit:

- Confirm and mark key testimony with a single click, while maintaining focus on the witness
- Receive a live feed of the transcript text, audio, and video
- Leave the proceedings with your notes and a usable version of the transcript in electronic format
- Allow remote team members to watch and participate via LiveNote Stream

Be sharp and effective in your analysis:

Challenges:

- Tracking your notes on particular testimony or exhibits
- Locating and summarizing all of the testimony and exhibits related to a specific issue
- Incorporating and presenting testimony effectively and efficiently

West LiveNote benefit:

- Annotate testimony and exhibits with predefined, color-coded issues
- Generate summary reports on particular issues or annotations
- Send important excerpts of testimony along with the page and line citation to your word processor

Manage your cases efficiently:

Challenges:

- Managing and analyzing multiple transcripts and exhibits
- Leveraging the notes and work product of various team members
- Having the materials you need when working out of the office

West LiveNote benefit:

- Easily search multiple transcripts and run summary reports
- Store transcripts and exhibits electronically in the LiveNote Repository™
- From home or the road, attorneys can access the central repository of all case information stored on the firm's servers
