WHAT'S NEW IN VERSION 5.0?

SOFTWARE—Version 5.0

Installation	Software is licensed during installation Admin-level workstation installations enabled Native file-type associations
Navigation	Consolidated tabs and specialized sub-pages Smarter toolbars and menus
Automation	Unlimited party lists All gender-phrases automatically replaced New tools speed up data entry and editing
Personal instructions	Edit the master text anytime Customize auto-populate
Print	Find all options in one place Easy access to instruction text and list printing
Content	CALJIC and CALCRIM in one Master Instruction List
Compatibility	Compatible with Windows 7, Vista, XP and 2000

INSTALLATION

Version 5.0's new installer clears out three persistent roadblocks: tricky workstation installations, inefficient licensing, and lack of native file-type association. And it enables the integration of the CALJIC and CALCRIM instruction lists by licensing them together.

	Previous Versions	Version 5.0
Licensing	Performed after installation in the program.	Performed during installation in the installer.
Network installation	WinJIS client installed on the server along with the shared files. Program is opened on the server to license it before installing workstations.	Only shared files are placed on the server, and licensing is performed during network installation. Network admin can move on to the workstation installations as soon as the network install is done.
Workstation installation	Performed from a separate installer in the network installation directory. Workstation installations only allowed when logged in at the user level.	Performed from the same installer that is used for local and network installations. Workstation installations allowed when logged in at the admin level.
Native file types	.jis and .jil files must be manually associated with Jury Instruction Selector.	.jis and .jil files are automatically associated with Jury Instruction Selector during installation. Double clicking one of these files will launch the software and open the file.
Criminal content	Criminal license keys provide access to CALJIC-only, CALCRIM-only or both.	Any criminal license key provides access to all criminal content.

NAVIGATION

We designed Version 5.0 to help you quickly find what you need, use it and move on. Long data entry screens and obscure options have been replaced with intelligent groupings of information and tools.

	Previous Versions	Version 5.0
Program information	Spread across several screens and menus.	Consolidated under the Start Tab, including version, release details, and other resources.
Data entry	Spread across 3 tabs; long field lists with minimal guidance.	Consolidated under the Case Information tab. Field lists grouped into specialized sub-pages. New tools show connections between selected instructions and Case Information.
Jury instructions	Spread across 4 tabs; Personal Instructions managed in a separate window and stored in the Master Instructions list.	Selection, editing and sorting all consolidated under the Jury Instructions tab, including Personal Instructions.
Print options	Spread across the Print Wizard and options window.	All formats and options are available under the Print Tab.
Toolbars and menus	Inconsistent or incomplete, limited context awareness.	Redesigned and reorganized; tools are placed where they are needed most, and removed where they are unnecessary. New View & Edit window toolbars replace large buttons, increasing the area available for text.

AUTOMATION

Version 5.0's case information system is more intelligent and flexible, making Auto-Populate more powerful and laying a foundation for ongoing enhancements.

	Previous Versions	Version 5.0
Multiple parties	3 plaintiffs and 3 defendants; other parties entered into single fields on the profiles tabs.	Unlimited parties.
Multiple roles	Party names that apply to multiple roles are entered separately into all profile fields.	Party names are entered once, and one or more roles assigned to each.
Shared roles	Multiple names can be entered into one profile field, but they are treated as a single name.	Parties can share roles and remain distinct from each other.
Party gender	Gender-phrase replacement only for plaintiffs and defendants.	Gender-phrase replacement for all parties.
Data entry	Long lists of profile fields with limited guidance as to how they affect the text.	New tools show connections between Case Information and Selected Instructions and indicate how the text will change with Auto-Populate.
Add Authorities tool	Add Authorities must be run separately for each instruction.	Add Authorities can be run separately or across all selected instructions.

PERSONAL INSTRUCTIONS

Version 5.0 gives you more control over your personal instructions—both the text and the way they are Auto-Populated.

	Previous Versions	Version 5.0
Master text	Personal instructions are written in stone—once you create them, they cannot change.	Master text can be updated anytime.
Access	Personal Instructions stored in the Master Instructions tab.	Personal Instructions stored and managed from their own sub-page under the Jury Instructions tab.
Auto-populate	Auto-populate places case information into personal instructions only if it can interpret the text. Little guidance available for writing instructions that auto-populate can understand.	Any text can be tagged to correspond to specific Case Information, making personal instructions as functional as standard instructions.

PRINT

Print tools are centrally located, meaning you can find and use them quickly.

	Previous Versions	Version 5.0
Print Wizard	Contains most print options. Options chosen through a long series of screens.	Replaced by the Print Tab.
Final pages	Final page formats, print settings and output preferences chosen in a series of Print Wizard screens and the Options window.	All formats, settings, and output preferences grouped together in the Print Tab.
Instruction lists	Available only through the Print Wizard.	Available anywhere in the Jury Instructions tab.
Instruction text	Instruction or commentary text printed separately from the applicable View windows; cannot be printed together. No printing from the Edit window.	Print instruction text and/or commentary text from any View window; print edited text from the Edit window.

CONTENT

Users of the civil jury instructions have long enjoyed the convenience of having BAJI and CACI in the same Master Instruction list. Now, with Version 5.0's integrated criminal instructions, users of CALCRIM and CALJIC enjoy the same benefits.

	Previous Versions	Version 5.0
Jury instructions	CALCRIM and CALJIC stored and accessed as separate content modules. Cannot be added to the same instruction set. Links between the two are viewable if both instruction types are licensed.	CALCRIM and CALJIC stored and accessed together as a single content module. Can be added to the same instruction set.
Licensing	Three licensing options: CALJIC-only, CALCRIM-only, and CALJIC plus CALCRIM.	Any of the 3 legacy license types will unlock the combined criminal module. Going forward, new licenses will cover the combined module.
